

I am trying to find a volunteer or some volunteers to help with my Uganda medical Charity called Suubi Clinic. I am looking for some one to help with admin work to do things like news letters and help organise fundraising events and all deal with our volunteers who go out regularly to help with work in Uganda.

Suubi Medical clinic is a non-profit, non-sectarian Medical charity project in Iganga district of Uganda, dedicated to bringing medical services to the poor villages of Uganda. Suubi's goals include disease prevention and treatment, nutrition for children and education. Denis Kigongo with the help of friends started Suubi Medical Clinic, in response to the desperate situation of the people in Busu. Denis was born and brought up in the village, so he knew that many children die before their 10th birthday, often of diseases like malaria. Denis himself has lost cousins and neighbours who died at an early age.

Denis felt a strong sense of responsibility to the community that Denis grew up in and started to build the clinic in 2003 using local labour and materials whenever possible.

All funds come from our own fundraising efforts and we receive no funding from the government.

The Health medical centre provides affordable medical care to people in Busu and the near by areas. Medical centre facilities include clinics for both children and adults. There are a few beds but we mainly deal with outpatients
